Shalom, Rav

Dear all,

There is a passage from Pirkei Avot, the Ethics of our Sages, that teaches the following. While the wisdom is 2000 years old, there are parallels that connect to many of the important life moments we celebrate with our children.

Rabbi Judah Ben Tema used to say:

At five years of age the study of Scripture (when children are “Consecrated” during Sunday School Kindergarten)

At ten the study of Mishnah (the beginning of Hebrew School)

At thirteen subject to the commandments (Bar/ Bat Mitzvah)

At fifteen the study of Talmud (Deeper Jewish connection/ Confirmation)

At eighteen the bridal canopy (Wedding: ok, perhaps 2000 years ago!)

I’ll be honest. I think Judaism as a whole does a pretty good job harnessing those special moments. But the passage continues:

At twenty for pursuit [of livelihood]; At thirty the peak of strength; At forty wisdom; At fifty able to give counsel; At sixty old age; At seventy fullness of years; At eighty the age of “strength”; At ninety a bent body; At one hundred, as good as dead and gone completely out of the world.

Now, you may not agree with all of the associated ages. But the passage serves as a reminder that at EVERY age and life milestone, we have the opportunity to honor the moment in a Jewish context.

This means that when you get a new job, you can offer a blessing.

When you turn forty, you make a monetary gift to a place of learning.

When you move, you put up a mezuzah.

When you retire ...

When you go through menopause...

When you become a grandparent ...

When you journey through an illness .... With all of these, we can create a ceremony!

And here’s Temple Akiba’s commitment.... Sure, you can Zoom into a service or study anywhere in the world. But Temple Akiba will embrace you in these personal life moments - because you are part of our family.

Friends, let’s honor life together. At every age. At every opportunity. At every life-moment!

Rabbi Zachary Shapiro

Cantor's Corner

In last year’s bulletin article, I wrote about a Sonny and Cher song that was stuck in my head, “The Beat Goes On.” This song is flooding through me once again as I write this article. The beat of Temple Akiba has continued to go on. Even in the midst of this Pandemic, our light continues to shine. This statement from last year remains true, “although our doors have physically closed, our hearts remain open, filled with love, hope, and the promise that life will get better. The beat of our liturgy, of our music also continues its steady rhythm.”

Temple Akiba didn’t just survive this year, it thrived. We didn’t miss a beat. Our Shabbat services were filled with ruach and beautiful music. We welcomed incredible guest artists such as Elana Arian, Jason Mesches, Charlie Kramer and Nefesh Mountain. We were enriched by the music and programming of the Kehilah program. We rocked to the music at our first ShabbRock service featuring our liturgy set to music of the 70’s. We experienced a night of meaningful music with our HIAS Refugee, Yom Hashoah and Yom Ha’atzmaut themed services. We were moved by the delightful singing of my daughter and Craig Newman’s daughter at our Generation of Singers Shabbat. Our Junior Cantors amazed us with their musicianship and singing at our Junior Cantors Shabbat.

And the fun doesn’t end. We are so excited to bring back our famous Disney and Broadway Shabbats. Our Cantorial Intern Liz Baseman will also be leading the congregation in a special Shabbat service filled with inspirational music.

We look forward to the day that we can pray together in person. And that day will be coming sooner than later. We can’t wait till the day we can hear all of your voices lifted in song, to see your smiling faces and to give you all a warm embrace.

Soon that day will arrive!

L'Shalom,

Cantor Lonee Frailich

Executive Director's Message

As April draws to a close, and we move into May, we draw closer to June 15th, the date that California has set as a goal to fully reopen. With that news, the top questions I receive are “what does this mean for the Temple?” and “when can we start coming back?” Both of these are great questions, and we are working hard to prepare for the days when we can come back.

As I have shared, the health and safety of our Clergy, staff, and all of our congregants is of the utmost importance to us, and we will continue to do what we can to ensure the health and safety of everyone who comes into the Temple. What will that look like as we move forward? What I can tell you, is that when we do come back, things are going to look a little different. We will still be following many of the protocols that are currently in place like social distancing, mask wearing, and frequent hand washing and sanitizing.

One thing that will be different is the implementation of a reservation system. As there will still be limitations to the amount of people who attend each time, having a reservation system will be a crucial part of our process. In addition to ensuring we know how many people will be attending, this will also help us know who is attending if we need to do any contact tracing. We will send out information on how to utilize the reservation system once it is operational.

Another component that is being discussed is having all those who are 16 and over, who are attending events at the Temple, to have proof of being double vaccinated. I am sharing this in advance so that if you have been vaccinated, please keep your vaccination card, as proof of vaccination is part of the process, we (and probably other places) will want to see card. If you have not yet been vaccinated, I also wanted to give you advance notice that this could be part of our process once we are back.

One other area that I wanted you to be aware of is that we understand that even when we are able to come back, that there will be people who are not comfortable to come back. We will be implementing a hybrid process where there will be people here at the Temple, and we will continue utilizing Zoom to ensure all those who are not able to join in person can still join from where they feel comfortable.

As we continue to work to implement all of these and other components, our excitement continues to grow. I know that everyone is looking forward to having you all back, and I am definitely looking forward to meeting all of you. Thank you for your patience as we work through all of this. We will keep you up to date with all of our planning. Until the time we are together, please know that we are all thinking of you, and continue to know that because of all of you, our Light definitely Shines Brighter!

Jeffrey Rips Executive Director

President's Message

I am reflecting on the past two years as I write this final bulletin article as president. Serving as the president of Temple Akiba has been a great honor and a wonderful experience. I appreciate the support of the Board, staff, and clergy and hope that my efforts will have a lasting positive affect on Temple Akiba moving forward.

When I began my presidency, my vision included upgrading our facility, advancing Board structure and adding key staffing. Once the pandemic began, my focus expanded in response to the many challenges. Though our physical doors were closed due to regulations, we needed to insure that our community connections, schools, religious services and camps remained strong, welcoming and vibrant. We wanted our Congregants to have opportunities for engagement and to make sure our wonderful staff were supported. We needed to continue focusing on our facility and operations. The results have been extraordinary. Our ECC, Religious School, and youth programs have flourished. Shabbat services have been incredible with a record number of Congregants attending. Our HVAC project is nearly complete. Operationally, we have a new executive director, Jeffrey Rips, and new janitorial staff. We have also improved our security, risk management, and human resources. Sisterhood and the Men's Group have flourished. Torah Study, Lunch and Learn and Coffee with the Clergy have continued to engage our Congregants. Seeing these many collaborative successes has been very gratifying.

Many of our members have experienced financial hardships, as well as feelings of isolation and loneliness. I have been told over and over that being part of the Temple Akiba community has been a big support. This community unity is wonderful to see.

Our community has also been pivotal for those outside our walls as our Tikkun Olam efforts have thrived. Collecting food, tents, shoes for the homeless, advocating for those in need and holding forums to promote education were just some of our projects.

During the pandemic we have also not lost sight of the future. Truly listening to our Congregants is very important to me. The Temple participated in the URJ Benchmarking project which included a Congregational survey. The results are very positive and will be presented at the first Congregational Meeting on May 6 along with action items (initiatives).

To those members who will be leaving our Board at the end of June, I send my upmost gratitude. We have accomplished so much together during these past two years. The new Board slate will be presented for approval at the second Congregational meeting on May 26.

A special thank you to Rabbi Shapiro and Cantor Lonee for their friendship and incredible work during these challenging times, to all our staff for working so hard, to our amazing executive director, Jeffrey Rips, and to our incredible Board for their leadership and support. The teamwork between staff, Board and clergy was tremendous. I have loved our can-do and positive attitude!

Finally, a very big special thank you to my wife Carol for her love and support!

L' Shalom,

SISTERHOOD

Brighter and Stronger... Together!

This very challenging year is drawing to a close and we are looking forward to safely returning to many of our traditional activities and roles in the coming year.

A great time was had by all who attended our Trivia Night. The consensus was that it was a fun and engaging session with lots of laughter and many surprises. Congratulations to our winners: the Bornstein family in Redmond, Washington, Morris & Elizabeth Zlotowitz, and Cathy Penso.

We will be honoring our upcoming Confirmands at their celebration on May 16th and making donations on their behalf to programs/organizations of their choosing.

We will also be celebrating our ECC graduates on June 10th and presenting them with a book in honor of this milestone event.

Our final event of the year is a Comedy and Deli event: A Culinary History of Jews in America based on the astrological signs of the deli presented by comedian Seth Front. A flyer for this event, scheduled for May 23 at 1:30 PM is in this bulletin which includes the Zoom link to participate. This promises to be a very entertaining program and we look forward to seeing you all there.

Don't forget that our Gift Shop is open by appointment: contact Linda Park at mommylinda50@hotmail.com. We continue to replenish our inventory with new tallit, mezzuzahs, candlesticks and many other ritual items. Keep us in mind for birthdays, anniversaries, weddings as well as Bar and Bat Mitzvahs.

Wishing everyone a safe and healthy summer.
